

Week 4 The Domain

188 people enjoyed Peter Shaw's well-devised courses at the Domain. The event was enlivened by a few visiting elite orienteers out for a training run ahead of the National Orienteering League events held at Pittwater last weekend.

Week 5 Waterworks Reserve

This week we will be at the lovely Waterworks Reserve, starting from between the dams. You know what to expect – gorgeous views, climbs, rocks, sticks, and that dam run again! Courses have been planned by first-time course-setter Charles Dragar, who knows how much the Long course runners love a climb 😊

A reminder that we now have thumb compasses for hire ($4/week) or purchase ($50). Compasses will become more useful as we get to the maps with more bush. Friendly Czech orienteer Michal will be happy to give you a quick lesson in how best to use them, so ask now because Michal leaves us after this event. Thanks for all your help, Michal.

Results

Lots of ways to relive the event: the overall summary results on the Eventor page for the event, the Winsplits results (click on 'Tasmania Results in Winsplits' at the top of the Results page), the LiveloX routes (tracking of some competitors' routes), and the cumulative series scores.

The Women's Long results were a repeat of last week with visiting German orienteering elite competitor Susen Lusch ahead of Zoe Dowling and Cathy McComb. Times were close at the top in Men's Long, with visitors Matt Patten (Launceston) and Michal Hubacek (Czech Republic) just edging out locals Allan Hood and Jemery Day. Sue Hancock again won Women's Medium, this week in decisive fashion over Jacinta Mackay and Kate Lucas. Ian Rathbone took out the win in a depleted Men's Medium field, with the injured Mike Calder second and Andrew Koerbin third. Anthony Stoner and Andrea Schiwy were the winners in the Short.

In the series cumulative points, Liz Canning is still a clear winner in Women's Long, ahead of Cathy McComb and Jenny Sheridan. Allan Hood is leading Men's Long, with Matthew Cohen, James Sugden and Mark West not too far behind. Kate Lucas is still in the lead in Women's Medium, ahead of Jan Hardy and Lynley Hocking. Ian Rathbone is now ahead of Steve Watson in Men's Medium, with Bert Elson in third. Melinda Walters and Dean Jones are well ahead in the Short.

In the cumulative Twilight Point scores Peter Cusick, Janet Bush, Jan Hardy, Paul Enkelaar and Liz Canning are all tied for first place.