About This Event:Odds and Evens Score

The object of the race is to visit as many controls as possible in the allocated time, just like a traditional score event. However, there is a twist – you can start with odd numbered controls OR even numbered controls, and change to the opposite series of controls when you want, but you can only change once.

When you decide to switch to the opposite series of controls, you must punch the Transition control (marked T on the map) immediately before changing. Once you have been through the transition control, you MUST switch to the opposite series of numbers – i.e. odd to even, or even to odd.

For example, you might visit controls 3, 5, 9, 1 then the Transition control T. After that, you can only visit even numbered controls before heading to the finish. The T control is only visited once. You can start with either odd numbered or even numbered controls – it's up to you.

Each control is worth 10 points, and the late penalty is 5 points per minute (or part thereof) for each minute over the time limit for the event you enter

There will be two score events – a 30 minute event and a 60 minute event. Maps will be available from 10:00. You must nominate the event you wish to enter.

NOTE: There will be a MASS START for the score events at 10.30 AM. A race briefing will be held at 10.15.

There will also be an easy course (1.7km) for beginners. You may start this course at any time between 10.00 and 11.00 AM.

Do I need an e-stick or P card?

All Tasmanian Orienteering clubs use the SportIdent (SI) electronic punching system so an e-stick or a P card is required at all events. If you do not own an e-stick or P card, you can hire one for $4 at the event. These are also available for purchase at most events. Please note that P-cards are not suitable for courses with more than 20 controls, so talk to the registration team if you have this problem. The maximum number of controls you can visit for the score events is 21 (including the Transition control), so if you anticipate visiting all controls, note that P cards have insufficient capacity.
