Dorrigo is a picturesque former timber town at an altitude of 750 metres. It services the local community farming the rich volcanic soils of the Dorrigo Plateau. Dangar Falls and the World Heritage listed Dorrigo National Park are close by, with rainforest, waterfalls and wildlife. The escarpment stretches from Dorrigo west to Armidale. Heading west from Dorrigo are Ebor Falls and Wollomombi Falls, easily accessible from the Waterfall Way. Cathedral Rock NP and New England NP have camping and accommodation options too.
